Canadian-born Butler
Rewarded for Loyalty

DETROIT (AP)—A new door is opening today for Melvin Hoover, who has been opening doors for a living for more than 30 years.

Hoover, a Canadian-born butler in his mid-50s, was notified Monday that he was named to receive $100,000 "after taxes" in the will of his employer, Mrs. L. u'. Mendelsohn, who died recently.

The bequest was "for loyal service and able assistance." He said: "Mrs. Mendelsohn told me before she passed away that she'd take care of me, and she did."

* * *

He expects to make some investments," "probably in utilities," but added: "I've never thought of them (investments) before. Of course, I never had money before, either."

"My roots are here. After you've done one thing for so many years—and for such wonderful people—it's hard to leave and even harder to find something else to do."

Hoover, a native of Madoc, Ont., whose father, David, now lives at New Liskeard, Ont., is divorced. He has two daughters, both married with families of their own.

An uncle, the Mendelsohns' gardener, induced Hoover to come to Detroit in 1921, while the Canadian still was in his teens. Later he was made under-butler at the Mendelsohn mansion.

Mrs. Mendelsohn also willed $50,000 to Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York. After numerous smaller bequests, several to servants, from the estate valued "in excess of a million dollars" by bankers, the will sets up trust funds for her daughter and son-in-law and her two grandchildren.

Mendelsohn was a financier and an early-day automotive inventor.
